

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

We are heading into Week 4 of second term and students are more familiar with the expectations placed on them in their studies. Recently I have noticed students making more use of the support networks available here: regular tutorials for all subjects, library sessions with specialists who are able to help students with assignments, Literacy or time management, Student Support sessions with counsellors and one on one sessions with subject teachers. If your son or daughter has not accessed our support networks, please encourage them to ask for help. Their Home Group teacher can help them if they are unsure of who to approach.

A few tips for success emerged from a recent Time Management session run at the college:

- Sleep is essential for success in study – 8 hours 12 minutes to be exact!
- Working in a structured way with other students can help.
- Thirty minutes of extra research or study makes a real difference in results.

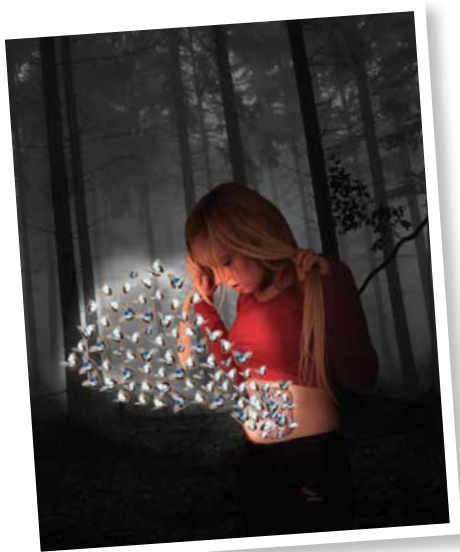

Reports are distributed to students today and I hope many of you will have positive conversations about future directions for your son or daughter and that you will come along to our Parent Teacher evening on 5 June from 4.30pm. I look forward to speaking with you there.
